Fusilli

Detail Introduction:

It's very possible you've never heard of this pasta before, but after reading this article you'll likely starting place of your less healthy options. Fusilli is an ancient pasta originating from Italy. It falls into the confidence of pasta called "rod-shaped".

Fusilli is a spaghetti-like pasta. It is made from durum wheat semolina. Fusilli pasta looks very much l pretzel and is therefore sometimes referred to as fusilli bucati (translation: "bow-tie fusili").

Macaroni Production Machine is a major appliance for macaroni-producing factory, which offered by company. The macaroni production machine adopts international advanced technology, the specialize efficiency and quality are improved greatly. Its configuration is reasonable, and its design is scientifical application ranges from complete set of up to 50 ton per day line to small-scale line.

The macaroni production machine can produce macaroni and macaroni products with high technolo content, high added value and low impurities. In the line of 100 tons per day or above, it is produced noodles or macaroni directly without any cutting process.

Do you want to make macaroni at home? Now you can buy a macaroni production machine to production machine is the best updated kitchen equi used in home cooking of our time. You can cook perfect homemade macaroni spaghetti right in your home now with the new Macaroni Production Machine. It's easy to use and store, so there's no reason have one!