

Fusilli

Introdução detalhada :

It's very possible you've never heard of this pasta before, but after reading this article you'll likely start replacing it in place of your less healthy options. Fusilli is an ancient pasta originating from Italy. It falls into the category of pasta called "rod-shaped".

Fusilli is a spaghetti-like pasta. It is made from durum wheat semolina. Fusilli pasta looks very much like a pretzel and is therefore sometimes referred to as fusilli bucati (translation: "bow-tie fusilli").

Macaroni Production Machine is a major appliance for macaroni-producing factory, which is offered by our company. The macaroni production machine adopts international advanced technology, the specialization, efficiency and quality are improved greatly. Its configuration is reasonable, and its design is scientific. Its application ranges from complete set of up to 50 ton per day line to small-scale line.

The macaroni production machine can produce macaroni and macaroni products with high technology content, high added value and low impurities. In the line of 100 tons per day or above, it is produced directly without any cutting process.

Do you want to make macaroni at home? Now you can buy a macaroni production machine to produce your own macaroni quickly and easily. The Macaroni Production Machine is the best updated kitchen equipment used in home cooking of our time. You can cook perfect homemade macaroni spaghetti right in your home now with the new Macaroni Production Machine. It's easy to use and store, so there's no reason not to have one!